Personal data processing

The Public Establishment for the Château, Museum, and National Estate of Versailles, acting as data controller, processes the data collected via this form to manage the administrative aspects of your donation and, where applicable, to send you information by email. The legal basis for this data processing is the fulfilment of contractual obligations for administrative procedures regarding your donation and the consent given to receive information about programming and sponsorship projects. Your data will only be shared with the sponsorship department and with service providers responsible for distributing the activity report and producing the plaques or acknowledgement board. You can access your data, correct it, request its deletion, exercise your right to restrict the processing of your data, withdraw your consent, object to the processing of your data, and exercise your right to data transfer by contacting: donneespersonnelles@chateauversailles.fr.

Alternatively, you can exercise your rights by contacting the CNIL (French data protection authority).

To find out more about how your personal data is handled, please visit:

www.chateauversailles.fr/politique-protection-donnees-personnelles.

In the case of a dedicated donation, in accordance with data protection regulations, the Palace of Versailles is required to provide a certain amount of information to the person to whom you are dedicating the donation and to obtain their consent – or that of their legal representative if the person is a minor – within one month of receiving your donation.

If you do not consent, the Château de Versailles will therefore be unable to include information regarding the person to whom you are dedicating your donation in the Institution's communications. In this case, only your choice to be named or to remain anonymous will be considered.
